Fellini Fantasy

Tapping Nine Lives For Marion Musical

The Marion Art Center Theater will present the summer musical "Nine," designed, directed by, and starring Paul Sardinha, on July 20, 21, 22; and July 27, 28, and 29 at 8:00 pm. A musical comedy by Arthur Kopit and Maury Yeston, based on Fellini's classic film 8 1/2, the show was first produced on Broadway in 1982 and won the Tony Award for Best Musical, directed by Tommy Tune. The story is about Guido Contini, a famous film director, and his attempts to come up with a plot for his latest film as he is pursued by hordes of beautiful women. In a series of flashbacks, we are shown pieces of Guido's life, which will become the material of his film, a musical version of the Casanova story.

The Marion Art Center production will feature Paul Sardinha as Guido and an amazing number of talented women playing the ladies in his life. Other members of the cast include: Kymberly Ashley, Amanda Blake, Deborah Bokelkamp, Terri Cabral, Eileen Caron, Alyssa Chase, Lisa Denham, Deirdre Duarte, Sheila Furtado, Cynthia Latham, Sarah Mui, Kelly Pereira, Anne Schenck, Hilary Visinio, Courtney Wicker, and Charlie Latham (as young Guido), Kevin Blake, Elliot Grover, and Zelig Stern. Set decoration is by David Boyce. Pianist is Nancy Sparklin.

Seating is limited. Some tables for parties of four or more are available. Tickets are $15 for MAC members and $20 for general admission. Please call 748-1266 for reservations or stop by the Marion Art Center, corner of Main and Pleasant Streets in Marion. The center is open Tuesday - Friday, 1:00 to 5:00 pm, and Saturday, 10:00 am to 2:00 pm. The theater is air-conditioned.

For more information, call the Marion Art Center at 748-1266 or visit their website at www.marionartcenter.org.

Mattapoisett Selectmen's Meeting

July 17, 2000

By Kenneth J. Souza

A regular meeting of the Mattapoisett Board of Selectmen was called to order on Monday, July 17 at 7:00 pm by Chairman Paul Lambalot. Also present were Selectman Raymond Andrews and Executive Secretary Carol Adams. Selectman Barry Denham was not present for the meeting.

Chairman Lambalot was greeted with a gallery of familiar faces — his own — as everyone present wished him a "Happy Birthday" while holding up masks made from old photographs of him. He thanked everyone for the gesture.

After approving the minutes of the June 29 and July 3 meetings and the Executive Session minutes of June 29, the board first met with Deborah Thackeray, Arnold Briggs, and Conservation Commission (ConCom) Chairman John DeMello to discuss drawing up some Conservation By-Law restrictions in the wake of the recent Eel Pond project controversy.

"We're here to ask if some (conservation) by-laws could be drawn up so something like Eel Pond doesn't happen again," Ms. Thackeray said. "The thing that surprised me the most was that there were no by-laws in place ... it's just surprising that a home could be built so close to Eel Pond, with nothing to protect it."

"If we had some existing rules and regulations in place, certain things wouldn't have happened (with Eel Pond)," Mr. Briggs added. "Our thought was we could work with the ConCom through the chain of command ... so we're turning it over to the Board of Selectmen to make you aware of the problem."

Both the Selectmen and Mr. DeMello agreed that they could look into existing "model by-laws" through such organizations as the Coalition for Buzzards Bay (CBB), the Buzzards Bay Project (BBP), or the Southeast Regional Planning and Economic Development District (SRPEDD) for examples of how to prepare such by-laws for next year's Annual Town Meeting. In fact, the Executive Director of SRPEDD, Steve Smith, was present for a later appointment that evening and suggested they consult SRPEDD's website (www.srpedd.org) for about two dozen by-law models which have been posted from other communities.

The board next signed and approved the appointment of Melissa A. Fox-Heon as Deputy Shellfish Constable/Dog Officer for the town upon a recommendation from Natural Resource Officer Kathleen Massey. They also sent a letter to Donald Cuddy for his past service to the town as Deputy Shellfish/Dog Officer

At 7:30 pm the board met with SRPEDD Executive Director Steve Smith and Planning Board Chairman Bob Rogers to discuss SRPEDD's Vision 2020 Project and the proposed "New" Mayflower Compact — a regional agreement to help control growth which he hopes all member communities in Massachusetts will endorse in October.

SRPEDD has been conducting ongoing studies of the 51 communities it represents throughout Plymouth and Bristol counties in Massachusetts and reported that this is the fastest growing region in the state. With a growth rate which is nearly three times the state average, Southeastern Massachusetts averages 10,000 new people every year.

In order to help control this rapid growth, SRPEDD has established the "Vision 2020" Task Force to set "an agenda for the future" and come up with a "Regional Agreement to Manage Growth." The organization is not against growth per se, they merely want to help member communities direct and manage this blossoming expansion.

Mr. Smith noted that they plan to have their third annual "Regional Growth Management Conference" in October, at which time they hope Mattapoissett officials will be present to sign the "New Mayflower Compact" agreement.

At 7:45 pm the board met with Planning Board members and Chairman Bob Rogers, Board of Appeals members and Chairman Jeff Chase, and members of the Water/Sewer Department to discuss future options for cellular tower placement in Mattapoissett. Selectman Andrews wanted to stress that this meeting was not meant to have any influence on the upcoming Board of Appeals Hearing scheduled for August 3 upon a request for a Variance from AT&T to locate a telecommunications tower on the Knights of Columbus property off Route 6.

"We've called this meeting to try and resolve problems and shortcoming in the by-laws," Selectman Andrews said. "We're only trying to educate ourselves. The town should be aware there are certain restrictions we can place on the location of telecommunication towers. That is why the Planning Board drew up the overlay district."

But Planning Board Chairman Bob Rogers said he would like to influence the Board of Appeals to deny the pending variance, claiming that the purpose of establishing the overlay district was to restrict the location of telecommunication towers in town — a move that was unanimously endorsed by Town Meeting voters.

"The feeling we got was that the townspeople wanted to be restrictive," Mr. Rogers said. "We wanted to be as restrictive as possible but give (companies) the leeway allowed in the law. The thinking was that this will force them to go the other route and place towers on existing structures. I would hope the Board of Appeals upholds the decision of Town Meeting voters and rejects the (AT&T) variance application. As far as I'm concerned, the zoning isn't broken ... I hope there's not a lot of consideration being given to granting the variance."

"I'm in favor of seeing what we can do to bring the cell towers under the control of one board," Selectman Andrews said. "I'd like to see it under the control of the Planning Board."

Everyone agreed that this matter warrants further discussion, and Selectman Andrews said he'd like to reschedule with some of the telecommunication "experts" to seek their opinions on the technology and the best route for locating them throughout town. A Public Hearing is scheduled for August 3 at 7:00 pm in the Town Hall Conference Room regarding a variance application filed by AT&T for the aforementioned telecommunications tower on the Knights of Columbus

In other matters, the board:

• Cited a piece of outgoing correspondence to the Public Access Board regarding the closure of the boat launching ramp at the town wharf. Effective July 17, the boat ramp will be closed from 11:00 pm to 5:00 am everyday until further notice and will only be opened in the event of an emergency. "This closure applies to everyone," read Selectman Andrews from the notice.

"We're trying to prevent trailer traffic from coming in and disturbing the neighbors during scup season," said Chairman Lambalot. "That is a residential area."

report, Mr. Huntoon told the board that he had received several complaints regarding the Rochester Circus signs that have remained on telephone poles throughout town. He suggests that someone removes them, as well inform the people who post them to facilitate the removal process next year by using fewer staples.

Next, under his report, Mr. Huntoon told the board that he had spoken with Susan Adams who expressed her concern regarding the cell towers in the town. She wonders who speaks for the town's best interest as well as their impact on the historic district of the town. She expressed interest in speaking with the Selectmen about the matter. Chairman Parker advised that she speak with the Planning Board citing that they "have control over this ... it is beyond the scope of the Selectmen."

The Board received a letter from Town Accountant Claudette Coutu regarding the importance of implementing a driver-training program, provided by the MIIA, for all emergency personnel, police, fire, and emergency medical technicians. Ms. Coutu included an article, which explains the course, which is offered to municipalities. Mr. Huntoon offered that the town has grown significantly, and that "traffic has increased an awful lot," agreeing that this could be a useful tool. Selectman Ryan agreed it should be investigated and to "look into all possibilities."

The next letter came from Norman and Marie-Elena Bourque of Rochester requesting that the Town change the name of proposed street Weigel Lane to that of Herring Brook Lane. The suggest the change so that the name can be easily read and spelled, but also so that it is geographically historic. Selectman Ryan countered by stating that the street had just been named and that it had been part of the planning process. She added that the developer had requested Weigel Lane, and that it does have historic significance. She suggested that a letter be sent to the Bourques denying the request.

The Board also received a letter from the U.S. Census Bureau thanking the Town for their cooperation during the Census 2000. They add that the job is not yet complete and asked the Town to assist them in the further collection of information. Chairman Parker cited that the volunteers who went door to door were very helpful, and that they sought help from the Selectmen. She also added that she will be interested to see "how close they come to our figures." The Census apparently does not include children in college, people in nursing homes, and those performing military service, however, the Town does count those people.

Finally, the Town received a letter from Dan A. McGaffey who expressed his concern that the Town's long term planning report does not take into account that parts of Rochester are considered villages, which are defined by high housing density that are close to the road with little or no yards. According to Mr. McGaffey, the report cites that the Village of East Rochester, as referred to by Mr.

McGaffey, is the ideal spot for an industrial area.

However, he claims that it is a well-populated residential area with children and families.

The concern from the Board seemed to be that his concerns, albeit genuine, were perhaps too late. Selectman Ryan and Chairman Parker both agree that perhaps the problem is that this section of town can be left out of the loop, so to speak, in that some flyers do not get mailed to their area, and there are fewer postings of such meetings. However, it is each residents' responsibility to seek such information. The Master Plan Committee's plans are accessible by the public. In addition, there are of course several meetings that are open to the public who are encouraged to attend and voice their concerns and oppositions. Further, townspeople who are not able to attend such open meetings can always find the information presented in numerous mediums: newspapers, libraries, and as Selectman Ryan pointed out, even on The Wanderer website (<http://www.wanderer.com>).

Under New Business, Rochester resident Georgia Chamberlain expressed her concern that three African geese had been "dumped" and left on her property. Unfortunately, an unidentified dog has mauled one of the enormous birds. Efforts to save the bird were unsuccessful. Ms. Chamberlain wants to know not only to whom the dog belongs, but more importantly what to do with the remaining two geese which continue to live on her property. She notes that they are clearly domesticated

Patients' Bill of Rights Passes

State Representative William Straus (D-Mattapoisett) announced recently that the House of Representatives unanimously accepted a report from the Conference Committee on Managed Care Reform, establishing new protections for citizens enrolled in managed care organizations. This bill is intended to give doctors and patients more leverage in dealing with HMOs.

The bill, which includes language for patient protections, safeguards for when a health care institution is purchased by a for-profit company, and a study of comprehensive health care for the uninsured, received near final approval by the House and was sent to the Senate for its approval before going to the Governor.

The original version of the Patients' Bill of Rights included two of Representative Straus' floor amendments. The first created a comprehensive review process for disputes between patients, doctors, and their HMOs. The Straus proposal is reflected in the Conference Committee's creation of the Office of Patient Protection. Currently, patients are unable to dispute certain medical decisions that are issued by their HMOs, including denial of coverage or refusal to pay claims, and this legislation allows patients to take their disputes to an independent panel of health care consultants.

The legislation also reflects Representative Straus' original efforts to limit the amount of time HMOs are allowed to act on certain decisions. This time limit is extremely important because currently some health plans can delay action indefinitely instead of acting on patient appeals.

"The point of this legislation is to rein in HMOs for some of the things they've been doing to limit care to individuals," said Representative Straus, who is a member of the Legislature's Health Care Committee. "HMO administration has become a problem for people because questions about their medical care are being second-guessed by accountants and bureaucrats rather than as a medical decision between a patient and their doctor."

The Senate is expected to act on the legislation this week, and it will then be sent to the Governor for his approval.

Benefit Auction in Mattapoisett

Is there anyone out there willing to donate a signed photograph of President Kennedy or a Civil War sailor's letter or a nineteenth century picture puzzle ... all for a good cause?

Such items and a variety of other donated paper collectibles are now being accepted for auction in the fall to help raise funds for land acquisition by local land trusts. The idea is being put forth by the Mattapoisett Friends Meeting (Quaker) as it plans for another of its auctions featuring ephemera (collectible paper goods) on October 21. A section of the auction is being reserved for donations.

The following land trusts will be beneficiaries of any donated items through this appeal: The Mattapoisett Land Trust, the Fairhaven-Acushnet Land Preservation Trust, the Rochester Land Trust, and the Sippican Lands Trust. Donors will select the land trust of their choice.

Examples of acceptable items include old photographs, whaling logs and other memorabilia from that era, movie and travel posters, early letters and postal history, watercolors, Civil War and other war-related items, local history books, games, autographs of famous people, pre-1920 post cards, old trade card scrapbooks, silhouettes, antique prints, old baseball and other sports cards, and the like.

Animal Advice

Jay Gould, DVM

TRAINING YOUR PUPPY

My puppy is 3 months old and still poops in the house. What can I do?

Use a crate. Puppies come to think of a crate as their own room, not a prison. The puppy goes into the crate last thing at night after being walked and is taken outside the first thing in the morning. After each meal the pup goes outside to the same spot with adult supervision and receives praise after elimination. The pup should stay in the crate during the day when he is not interacting with family members. He should go outside every 30-60 minutes when he is free in the house. Most dogs are housebroken by 6 months.

When can I start teaching him tricks?

Start immediately! Have short training sessions of 1-2 minutes, 10-30 times daily. Start with "come, sit, stay" and then add other tricks as you desire. Heal is important with a large breed pup. If the dog walks ahead of you on a leash, turn around and start walking in the opposite direction. Raise the pup constantly when he/she is walking without pulling.

Mattapoisett Historical Museum

Summer Exhibit

The special summer-long exhibit this year at the Mattapoisett Historical Museum is called "As Time Goes By" and features a fine collection of time pieces from the 18th, 19th, and 20th centuries. It includes clocks, watches, hourglasses, calendars, almanacs, and various other means of time measurement.

The exhibit focuses on how we have measured, calculated and kept time over the past two hundred years (and beyond). It includes a display of 43 clocks and 20 watches, as well as hourglasses, sundials, and even a model of Stonehenge. Also included in the exhibit are calendars, almanacs, and diaries which were, of course, other methods of time measurement.

The museum is air-conditioned and you are urged to visit this "special" part of Mattapoisett and learn more about not just time pieces, but Mattapoisett's past as well. For more information, please call the museum at 758-2844.

The museum is open Tuesday - Saturday, 1:00 to 4:00 pm. Admission is $2 for adults and 50 cents for children under 14. There will be docents on hand to help interpret the various exhibits.

Friday's show is part of the Elizabeth Taber Library summer program "Hooked on Books" and is made possible in part by a grant from the Marion Cultural Council, a local agency which is supported by the Massachusetts Cultural Council, a state agency.

Marion Festival Huge Success

An unbelievable $7,110 was raised for the non-profit Zeiterion Theatre at the Marion Wine and Arts Festival held on Saturday, July 8 at Marion's Island Wharf. The event, which attracted more than 1,200 patrons, is the brainchild of Marion resident Wendy Cullum, who expressed delight that the festival was well-received. According to Ms. Cullum: "This was a day to celebrate the arts — visual and musical — and sample the fruits of fine wine-making. It seemed people truly enjoyed themselves. And the Marion Wine and Arts Festival Board, which worked long and hard, is elated with the manner in which the event unfolded. We believe we surpassed our goals on many levels."

Sixty artists coming from all over New England and as far away as California participated in the juried art show, which primarily focused on fine art. Many of the artists sold their work to attendees and festival organizers did not take any commission on the artists' work. The festival attracted renowned artists like Charles Parsons, Deborah and Beth Macy; Susan Stillman, Arthur Moniz, and Robert Duff. A silent auction held Friday night raised $2,110 for the Zeiterion Theatre.

Over ninety wineries sent representatives for the 2:00 to 6:00 pm wine-tasting portion of the day. Two huge tents were devoted to the wine-tasting. The Rochester Lions Club also netted $1,500 for its organization from proceeds raised from a concession stand the group set up on Island Wharf on Saturday.

Zeiterion Theatre Executive Director Christopher LeBlanc is thrilled with the event, saying: "I am amazed at just how successful it was. When the organizers initially approaches us, they were very upfront about two things: first, they wanted to support the Zeiterion, and because it was a first-time event, they did not know how much they would ultimately be able to give us. The Z is non-profit, so naturally we would be pleased with any amount. I am astounded with receiving over $7,000. This is an organization we are most pleased to be affiliated with and we eagerly anticipate next year's event."

League of Women Voters

In this season of endings and beginnings, as high schools and colleges celebrate commencement, other active groups also mark the close of one busy year and plan for another that will start in September. At their recent Annual Meeting and Dinner, members of the League of Women Voters of Marion/Mattapoisett/Rochester thanked outgoing board members, elected new ones, and approved a new local study.

Mary Schmidek and Claire Russell will serve as co-presidents, succeeding past co-presidents Debby Bush and Eunice Manduca.

The League's new education study will be an examination and evaluation of the financial, academic, and political effects on the three member towns of adopting full regionalization, pre-Kindergarten through Grade 12, in the Old Rochester School District. To participate in the study, League membership is not required, and the study committee is particularly eager to include people from all three towns.

At present, the regional senior and junior high schools are governed by a school committee of members elected from each of the three towns. Local schools (pre-K through Grade 6) are governed by locally-elected committees. The grade schools and the secondary schools employ the same superintendent, and share other personnel including the district-wide Special Education Director and Cafeteria Manager. All grade schools have similar curriculum goals and standards, intended to prepare students from all three towns to begin seventh grade together on an equal footing.

The League's study will include consideration of what the effect of full regionalization might mean on teacher contracts, assignment of students, school transportation, state school aid, the election of school committee members, and other topics. Participation in the research and evaluation will be a unique opportunity for interested parents and taxpayers from all three towns to become informed and involved. # MOVIE REVIEW

The X Show

BY ROB GONSALVES

<http://robsreviews.cjb.net>

X-Men. Starring Patrick Stewart and Ian McKellen. Directed by Bryan Singer. Running time: 104 minutes. MPAA rating: PG-13. At Cinema 12 at the North Dartmouth Mall and Flagship Cinemas in New Bedford.

At some level, X-Men — the comic book and the new movie it has spawned — is, has been, and always will be adolescent hokum, but it's adolescent hokum that can get around your shields and get to you. When writer Chris Claremont gave the X-Men comic a makeover in the mid-'70s, he knew exactly how to turn it into a fan favorite: tap into the average comic-book reader's feelings of being misunderstood, ridiculed, alienated from the popular crowd. The noble mutants — superheroes born with uncanny powers, and persecuted by society for it — were stand-ins for their audience. Whether X-Men can connect with a summer-blockbuster audience on the same metaphoric level remains to be seen, but it deserves to; it's probably the most fully-rounded and satisfying bit of popcorn entertainment we've gotten this summer, or are likely to get.

The movie opens, oddly enough, in a Holocaust setting; we witness a young boy, who will grow up to be the vengeful Magneto (Ian McKellen), traumatically separated from his parents by Nazi soldiers. Manifesting his powers, the young Magneto causes the camp's iron gates to bend. Some will question whether Holocaust imagery should be used to spruce up a summer comic-book movie, but the moment has surprising power; so does much of the rest of the film. Director Bryan Singer (The Usual Suspects, Apt Pupil), who has never worked on a blockbuster scale before, tosses off the special-effects scenes — they're necessary, but he's not all that crazy about them — and focuses, believe it or not, on the personalities and philosophies in conflict.

Mutants are under attack; the self-righteous Senator Kelly (Bruce Davison), using rhetoric straight out of Joe McCarthy's playbook, calls for all mutants to be registered ("Would you want your children to go to school with mutants? Be taught by mutants?"). Magneto, who has seen this sort of thing before, mistrusts humans and sees the conflict as a war that mutants must win in order to survive. His opposite, Professor Charles Xavier (Patrick Stewart), is more optimistic — he runs a private school devoted to helping young mutants refine their "gifts" for the greater good. Among Xavier's recruits are Wolverine (Hugh Jackman), a brutal scrapper with claws that pop out of his fists; Storm (Halle Berry), who commands the weather; Cyclops (James Marsden), whose eyes shoot lethal lasers; Jean Grey (Famke Janssen), a budding telepath; and Rogue (Anna Paquin), whose touch robs people of their essence and/or mutant abilities.

Singer deftly sets up each character in a way that establishes their powers and personalities (Wolverine is a cynical loner; Cyclops is a stiff; and so on) lightly and quickly, and then gets on to the next thing. As summer movies go, X-Men is remarkably crisp and economical; it's not overawed by its own special effects, even when an unfortunate character's too, too solid flesh melts, thaws, and resolves itself into a dew. The acting is also a lot better than it had to be, though I wish Ian McKellen's saturnine Magneto had more lively henchmen to bounce his wit off of; his minions (Tyler Mane's animalistic Sabretooth, Ray Park's tongue-lashing Toad, and Rebecca Romijn-Stamos' shape-shifting Mystique) have little or no dialogue.

Singer and McKellen worked magic together in Apt Pupil — another movie that used the Holocaust as a jumping-off point quite effectively — and McKellen approaches this comic-book villain (with the rather embarrassing pronunciation "Mag-neato") without a scrap of condescension or even conscious hamming. The role doesn't take dignity away from him; he gives dignity to the role, and to the film. Like the misbegotten Battlefield Earth, the movie ends with the promise of more to come (there's a terrific final scene between Xavier and Magneto), but in this case you want to see more. Bryan Singer brings a casual touch to blockbuster wizardry, as in a charming classroom scene when one bored mutant idly makes a fireball and another bored student turns it into an iceball. X-Men shows every sign of being a smart, truly magical adventure-movie series — if there's an audience for it.

SELLING IN ABSENTIA

Not everyone has the good fortune of waiting until their home is sold before moving and buying or renting another abode. In many instances, the seller must pick up stakes and relocate before the sale is made. Others may want to sell a vacation or second home far away from their primary residence. If this is your situation, have no fear. We sell houses that are unoccupied all the time. There are several arrangements that can be made.

You could have a lock box put on your property. A lock box would contain the key to your home. The lock box is master keyed and such keys are held by designated agents from approved cooperating real estate agencies. With a lock box, authorized agents and their clients will have access to your property during your absence.

Another alternative is to leave a house key with our agency. Cooperating agencies would have made arrangements with us to pick up and return the house key.

This Week's Horoscope

by Linda Black

Aries (March 21-April 19). You'll be lucky in love. Plan to do something romantic. Save the work for later.

Taurus (April 20-May 20). Home and family are important. Finish a household project, and everybody will feel a lot better. Relax.

Gemini (May 21-June 21). You'll learn quickly, and the information will stick with you. Apply what you've learned. One good way to use this ability is to fix up your place.

Cancer (June 22-July 22). Money is important. Review your budget, and you'll feel a lot better. Plan. When your schedule is set, you'll settle down more.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22). You're strong. You're awesome. Be gentle. Read a book or two so nobody gets ahead of you. Entertain friends.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). You may want to spend time in quiet contemplation. Set it up so you can think things over or simply get lost in your daydreams.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). Get together with your team and figure out what you're going to do next. Make sure people know what their assignments are and how to do them.

Scorpio (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). Just do what you're told. Don't argue; the boss won't be in the mood to hear it. You could advance by being in the right place at the right time, however.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). Find a reason to go on a business trip if you don't have any vacation time coming. You may be in for a pop quiz, however.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Review your financial situation. You should know what you owe and what others owe you. Don't take anything for granted.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). Form or reaffirm a partnership. This may require a compromise, but that is possible. Be flexible.

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20). Dig in and finish a big job. You'll feel better once that's checked off your list. A partner could be a great help.

If You're Having a Birthday This Week: You're awesome. You're so cute, you could get just about whatever you want, so go for it! Money's your theme — and your reward.

COOKIN' GOOD

Quick-and-Easy Meatloaf By Deanna Gugel

1 pound lean ground beef or ground chuck
8 ounces dried bread crumbs
2 eggs
1/2 green pepper
1-cup mushroom slices
1/2 small Vidalia onion
8 strips bacon
1 cup water
1-T Worcestershire sauce
Favorite barbecue sauce

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. While the oven is warming, drop the ground beef into a large mixing bowl. Add the dried bread crumbs and eggs. Using your hands, mix together the beef and the bread crumbs, squishing together and then forming a large ball repeatedly until the ingredients are well-combined. When the main ingredients are well-mixed, clean the green pepper, mushrooms and onion and dice into small pieces. Add the green peppers, vegetables and mushrooms to the ground beef and add the eggs, Worcestershire sauce and water. Again, using your hands, knead the ground beef and other ingredients together and form into a ball and repeat until the ingredients are evenly distributed. When they are, separate the ingredients into two large balls and form each into an oval shape. Set each in a separate loaf pan. Place four bacon slices on the top of each loaf and, using a pastry brush or spoon, top with barbecue sauce. Cover and bake for about 40 minutes, or until the meat is no longer pink. Remove from the baking pan to drain any possible grease, set on your serving dish and slice to about 1-1/2 inch thick. Garnish with potatoes or peppers and onion. Save one loaf for later if you don't need it.
